THE CITY COUNCIL IN SESSION

Very Little Outside of Routine Business to Consider.

The regular meeting of the Mayor and City Council was held on Wednesday evening with Councilman Locke the only absentee.

An invitation was received from the Executive committee of the Old Home Week celebration for the Mayor and members of the Council to review the big parade from the Rockingham with the other honored guests. Mayor Adams said that it was planned for the members of the Council with their wives, to meet at City Hall and proceed to the Rockingham hotel, where they would be given a position on the reviewing stand.

A communication was received from the Central Labor Union, asking that in all contracts for city work, a clause be provided by which union wages should be paid and the eight hour day be demanded. The communication was accepted.

The petition of Ella Gammon to connect her house with the sewer on Court street was granted.

The Tarbox Express company were given permission to erect a swinging sign in front of their office on Daniel street.

Charles M. Rand was given permission to encumber the corner of Union street and Lincoln avenue, for building purposes.

A resolution transferring $100 to be used for the rent of a new polling place for ward five was passed. The new ward room will be at 18 Bow street. The remodeling of the old High school building into a city hall did away with the ward five polling place.

Councilman Trafton called attention to the poor condition of the asphalt pavement on Congress street, saying that he had broken a spring on his automobile while riding down that street, and the same had cost him five dollars. That somebody would lose a wheel of an automobile and then the city would have to pay. The Mayor stated that he would call the attention of the Board of Public Works to the condition of the street. Councilman Trafton wanted the streets in the central part of the city sprinkled for Old Home Day, whether the streets were in the district or not. This the Mayor promised to call to the attention of the Board of Public Works.

Mr. Trafton warmed up to the subject of street sprinkling, and said that the whole system was bad, and wanted to know if there was not some way in which the Council could do something. That the commissioners held a quiet meeting once a year without anybody knowing anything about it and there were many people who would like to get in the district, but were not allowed the chance. The Mayor gave his opinion that there was no way in which the City Council could get in, as it was out of their jurisdiction.

Councilman Brewster offered a resolution transferring the sum of $300 to the appropriation for the rebuilding of the public landing wharf at the foot of Gates street. It has been half finished and is held up for the lack of funds and for $300 it would be placed in good condition and the floating stage transferred to in front of the new wharf. Mayor Adams wanted the matter to lay over until Councilman Locke came home, and although everybody agreed that the work should be completed this summer, it was left over until the next meeting.

Hon. Wallace Hackett was reelected.

CUPID'S BUSY SEASON

A Double Wedding at the Church of The Immaculate Conception

Miss Parsons Weds Mr. Ripley and Miss Kimball Weds Mr. Johnson

Popular Portsmouth People are Married at Nashua and Pittsburg--Popular Clerk Takes a Bride from His Old Home in Nova Scotia

The Church of the Immaculate Conception was the scene of a very pretty double wedding at 9:30 this forenoon when the Misses Margaret and Isabelle Smith, daughters of the late Benjamin and Margaret Smith, became the brides of Frank J. Bierman and Ernest L. Perry, chief petty officers of the U. S. S. Wisconsin.

The first marriage was that of Miss Margaret Smith and Frank J. Bierman and was performed by Rev. Father Edward J. Walsh, P. R., followed by a nuptial high mass in which the musical portion was rendered by the regular choir, assisted by Oliver Dowd, violinist.

The second wedding followed immediately, when Miss Isabelle Smith was united in marriage to Ernest L. Perry, the ceremony also was performed by Rev. Edward J. Walsh, P. R.

Both brides wore pretty dresses of white lace, white picture hats trimmed with white silk and willow plumes. They carried bouquets of white roses.

Miss Margaret Smith was attended by her sister, Miss Isabelle Smith, and Miss Florence Smith, sister of the brides, was bridesmaid for Miss Isabelle Smith. James Smith, brother of the brides, was best man for both grooms.

Mrs. Bierman has for several years filled the position of bookkeeper at the store of A. E. Rand. She is well known in musical circles and has rendered faithful service as soloist in the choir of the Immaculate Conception church for a long period.

Mrs. Perry has been connected with the Herald force for some time as compositor and, like her sister, enjoys the acquaintance of a large circle of young friends who now extend congratulations to both married couples with the hearty wishes that sunshine and contentment irradiate their wedded life.

Riley-Parsons

At noon on Wednesday a pretty home wedding occurred at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Parsons on Sagamore avenue, when their daughter, Miss Ethel Estella Parsons, became the wife of Edward Hamilton Riley, a popular employee of the firm of Chadwick and Trefethen.

In the parlor of the home midst exquisite decorations of cut flowers and ferns the ceremony was performed by Rev. Charles LeV. Brine, pastor of Christ church.

The bride's dress was white batiste and she wore a lulle veil caught with lilies of the valley. She was attended by Mrs. Rose Clough, who wore pink silk muslin, and Miss Lillie Parsons, sister of the bride, who was gowned in blue silk.

The best man was Arthur B. Clough.

A pleasant reception followed the ceremony and a repast consisting of salads, cold meats, olives, rolls, ices and coffee was served to the guests. Mr. and Mrs. Riley left on the afternoon east bound train and will pass their honeymoon at Portland and other interesting points in Maine.

The going-away gown of the bride was a suit of mode shade, silk waist to match, hat of corn color straw trimmed with pink roses.

On their return they will reside at Number 76 Union street.

The esteem of their many friends was manifested by the numerous gifts of silver, cut glass, china and linen. The young couple start their new life with bright prospects, and they have the best wishes for all the happiness that marks a wedded life from their many friends in this city.

Whittemore-Hooper

On Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock George E. Whittemore and Miss Alice M. Hooper of this city were united in marriage. The wedding occurred at 95 Vine street, Nashua, N. H., and was performed by Rev. E. C. Strout in the presence of a large gathering of friends of the contracting parties.

The bride was becomingly gowned in light blue silk and carried bride's roses.

Her bridesmaid was Miss Effie Noseworthy of Portsmouth who wore Alice blue silk and carried a bouquet of pink roses.

The best man was Forest G. Whittemore.

Pretty decorations adorned the rooms of the home made up of cut flowers, ferns and palms, and where the following menu was served following the ceremony: Salads, cold chicken, olives, rolls, ice cream, assorted cake and coffee. The wedding gifts were in abundance and composed beautiful articles of cut glass and silver.

Among the gifts was a handsome ornamental clock presented by the employees of the Morley Burton Manufacturing company and the bride's gift to the bridesmaid was a gold signet ring.

Following their honeymoon and a visit to interesting points in Massachusetts and New Hampshire they will reside in this city. Guests from Lawrence, Pepperell, Ayer, Gardner, Derry, Manchester, Boston and Portsmouth were present.

Basin-Harrington

Word has been received here of the marriage in Pittsburg, Pa., of Miss Katherine Elizabeth Harrington, formerly of this city, to Francis C. Basin of Pittsburg. The marriage was performed in the rectory of the Church of the Holy Rosary in Pittsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. Basin are now keeping house on Shetland avenue in the smoky city.

Miss Harrington left this city about six weeks ago, informing only her intimate friends of her intention.

on Wednesday announcing the wedding in Nashua June 29 of Miss Nellie P. Lafayette, formerly of Portsmouth and Fred Gale of Nashua.

Johnson-Kimball

Ludwig Johnson and Miss Jennie Emery Kimball were married at 2:45 p. m., Wednesday June 29, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry M. Kimball, No. 50 Bartlett street. Rev. Charles H. Emmons, pastor of the Universalist church was the officiating clergyman.

The bride wore a traveling gown of blue serge trimmed with silk braid and a white mouseline silk waist. Her hat was of black lace straw trimmed with ostrich plumes and pink roses. She carried white roses. She was attended by her sister, Miss Bessie Folsom Kimball, who wore pink poplin with lace yoke and velvet trimmings.

The best man was William C. Trafton.

Following the ceremony a reception was tendered the popular young couple and a luncheon served, consisting of Parker House rolls, lobster salad, olives, coffee, harlequin ice cream, strawberries and cream and assorted cake and fruits.

They departed on the 5:20 train for Portland. After a short wedding trip they will reside at Lynn, Mass., where the groom works as a joiner.

The best wishes and love of a host of friends follow Mrs. Johnson to her new home in Massachusetts.

White-Hodgden

The marriage of Benjamin J. White and Miss Aletha Patterson took place Wednesday evening at the parsonage of the Middle Street Baptist church, the ceremony being performed by Rev. William H. Stanley.

The groom is a popular clerk at the furniture store of Margeson Brothers. His parents reside at Weymouth, N. S., and his bride is a recent arrival from Nova Scotia. He is liked here and his wife is assured of a hearty welcome to our city.

DISTINGUISHED MEN AT DARTMOUTH EXERCISES

Hanover, N. H., June 30.—Dartmouth had yesterday as guests at the commencement exercises in Webster Hall hundreds of prominent men, including Gov. Quincy and staff, all the trustees of the college, and noted educators.

At half past eight that morning, a procession was formed at the senior fence, with President Nichols and Gov. Quincy leading followed in order by the trustees of the college, the Governor's staff, the invited guests, and the different classes, beginning with Judge Cross of the class of '41 and ending with the graduates of last year. The senior class acted as escorts.

The exercises were held in Webster Hall, which was crowded. The commencement speakers were Clifford Stanley Lyon of Holyoke, Mass., on "The Ideals of the Greek Drama"; William Collins Hainsworth Moe, Norwich, Vt., "Moral Education in the Public Schools"; Walter Alfred Phelps of Wakefield, Mass., "The Problem of the Unemployed"; Noah Sylvester Foss of Plymouth, N. H., "Horace: The Glorifier of the Commonplace"; Maynard Confield Teall of Sodus, N. Y., "The Call of the City"; and Warren Choate Shaw of Lowell, Mass., "The Second Chamber on Trial."

Walter Alfred Phelps was valedictorian, and W. C. H. Moe, salutatorian.

The degree of master of arts was conferred upon A. Maurice Low, author and journalist; the degree of master of science upon John Hildreth McCollom, superintendent of the Boston City Hospital, and upon James Eugene Howard, expert in the United States bureau of standards.

The degree of doctor of science was conferred upon Edward Leamington Nichols, professor of physics in Cornell University. The degree of doctor of divinity was conferred upon Reuben Bean Wright '74, home missionary in Idaho, and upon George Harlow Reed, pastor of the First Congregational Church, Concord, N. H. The degree of doctor of literature was conferred upon Albert Stillman Batcheller '72, member of the New Hampshire bar and editor of state papers, and Harlan Page Amen, principal of Phillips Exeter Academy.

Doctor of literature: Harlan Page Amen, principal of Phillips Exeter Academy.

BASS TELLS HIS POLICY

Manchester, June 30.—A party of friends last night gave a dinner at the Country Club to Hon. Robert P. Bass of Peterboro.

Following the banquet William Savinell, president of Manchester board of trade, introduced Senator Bass as a man who had done more to bring about a reduction of express charges in New Hampshire than any other man in the state, and stated that while he had heretofore taken no part in politics he was in the present campaign to do this utmost for the nomination and election of Mr. Bass.

Mr. Bass called attention to the evolution which had taken part in the office of chief executive of the state and his council by way of increased responsibilities, such as having an oversight of the state asylum, the home for Feeble Minded, Tubercular, senile, Industrial school and other institutions which were caring for charges formerly cared for by the counties and towns, or the inspection of state highways and at present the rebuilding of the state house, and the working out of other problems, and said that the governor and council to be chosen in November would have to care for these large interests as trustees acting for the people. He said:

"Should I be nominated and elected it is my ambition to give the state an honest, efficient, economical and progressive business administration—in short, to see that the state gets full value for every dollar it expends. This is one of the important things which I understand progressive politics represents."

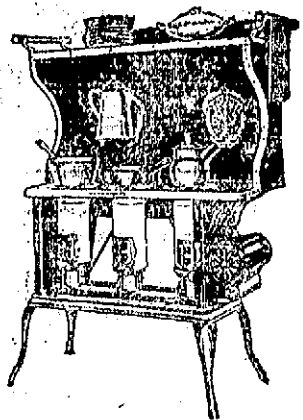

"In my opinion the governor should fulfill his duties in the spirit of a public servant; as a trustee, representing the whole people and exercising the functions of his office in an honest, independent and impartial spirit which will lead to results which will be of the greatest benefit to the state as a whole. This means that the governor in his appointments will be guided not by a desire to build up political organization or to further his political ambitions, but those of his immediate friends, but that the measure he will use in choosing his appointees will be honesty and efficiency."

"In order to give the kind of service I have described a man must be elected by people as a whole and not through the influence of any one man or any small group of men, or of any corporation. He must have no strings tied to him. He must stand in his own shoes. He must be free from political, trade or from any undue influence of the great interests which have heretofore been so potent in all matters political."

"I am seeking to be governor of New Hampshire, and I am sticking strictly to that one object along the line of which I have just spoken. I am taking no hand in promoting or opposing candidates for other offices. I have made and shall make no trades. I am seeking the support of the people of New Hampshire for the governorship, and if nominated and elected shall owe my election and allegiance to them."

Among those present were Fred T. Dunlap, H. Ellis, Straw, Ernest Smith, Hugh Plack, J. W. Donohue, Fred W. Shontell, Dr. G. C. Wilkins, James A. Wellman, M. A. Berry, Ralph Reed, George A. THE MAYOR WILL SPEAK

Mayor E. H. Adams will deliver an address at the graduating exercises from the Portsmouth branch of the Plymouth Business school, at Freeman's hall next week 7:30 p.m. Tuesday evening.

Dyspepsia is America's curse. Our dock-bled fathers came here to escape every form of disease, but the stomach, the seat of digestion, normal well-being, and good health.

ATMOSPHERIC HUMIDITY.

Moist Air Indispensable in Many Industries.

There are many materials, operations and products which require special atmospheric conditions for advantageous or profitable maintenance. Principal among such operations is the manufacture of textiles, perhaps the largest single industry carried on in factories. In the favored climate of the Manchester and Bolton districts of England the natural climate affords working conditions equalled in America only on occasional days in certain localities.

Even in England, however, there are many days in which the atmosphere is too dry for the best work. Since textile fibers are increased in strength and elasticity by high humidity and moderately high temperature, breakages are less frequent under proper conditions, and the output is increased. But even before the fiber reaches the manufacturing plant atmospheric humidity plays an important part. Cotton loses weight as it dries out; but, more than that, the fibers brittle and appear shorter and of lower grade than when slightly moistened. Leather, feathers and many other porous substances lose a considerable percentage of weight in drying out, so that the maintenance of average and uniform humidity in the storage rooms has a direct advantage to the owner in maintaining the value of his goods as they lie in the warehouse.

Cigars and tobacco lose flavor in dry air and regain it to some extent, after loss, by storage in properly humidified rooms. Wooden furniture and musical instruments are sometimes cracked or the finish injured by the dry air of steam heated rooms. All these and other similar goods are advantageously worked or stored in rooms in which the atmospheric humidity is artificially controlled and kept at the most desirable point.—Engineering Magazine.

Wet Weather and Camels.

Camels are very sensitive to moisture. In the region of tropical rains they are usually absent, and if they come into such with caravans the results of the rainy season are greatly feared. The great humidity of the air explains the absence of the camel from the northern slopes of the Atlas and from well wooded Abyssinia. This sensitiveness expresses itself in the character of different races. The finest, most noble looking camels, with short silk-like hair, are found in the interior of deserts, as in the Taureg region in north Africa, and they cannot be used for journeys to moist regions. Even in Fezzan, south of Tripoli, the animals are shorter and fatter, with long coarse hair, and in Nile lands and on oasis it is the same. These animals, too, are less serviceable as regards speed and endurance.

The Eyes of the Musk Ox.

The skull of the bull musk ox is remarkable for the development of the eye orbits, which project sufficiently beyond the plane of the frontal bones to compensate for the interruption of the horns would otherwise make in the range of vision. The musk ox, however, does not seem to rely greatly on keenness of sight, far less on acuteness of hearing, for the ears are of small dimensions and are completely covered by the heavy growth of fur about them. The organs of scent are evidently more highly developed, and they exact of the hunter his greatest cunning.

Just Imagine!

"Why don't they have women on juries?" she asked.
"Imagine a woman sitting through a long argument by a lawyer and not interrupting," was the answer she received.—Buffalo Express.

With its brushwood, judgment is timber. The first makes the brightest flames, but the other gives the most lasting heat.

ed a member of the Sinking Fund Commission for three years.

Councilman Stoddard was after information and asked if the Board of Public Works were going to take advantage of the arms and law for roads. That, as he understood the matter, the state could give an equal amount as the town toward building roads and this city had $3500 to spend it would be able to get a like amount.

The pay roll for July amounting to $2,286.31 was approved and the auditor's report of bills amounting to $4,025.82 were ordered paid.

Councilman Trafton wanted something done about a new central fire station and asked that a small appropriation be made to provide plans, but the Mayor ruled that the matter was in the hands of a joint committee and they should report first.

Miss Frances A. Mathes and Mr. William C. Walton were reappointed members of the Board of Trustees of the Public Library.

Adjourned until July 28.

HAVE BEEN WED NINETY YEARS

Great Marriage Record of Colorado Couple

HUSBAND BORN IN 1800

Wife Is Three Years His Junior and Their Only Surviving Child Is a "Boy" of Eighty-Five—Francisco Espar and His Wife Born in New Mexico When That Territory Was Under Jurisdiction of Spain

Florence, Col., June 30.—Ninety years of wedded bliss, of happiness and enjoyment, here and there with a few clouds of sorrow and grief, is the record of Francisco Espar and his wife.

For them is claimed the marriage record of America, both in point of age and length of wedded life. They look upon that seventy year married couple as youngsters just out of their honeymoon stage.

At the home in Florence of a granddaughter, Mrs. Julia Montoya, the aged couple have lived many years.
The granddaughter supplies many of the facts of the life of the old people.
While the husband was strong on things that happened years ago, his memory could not recall events that occurred more recently. It was here that he relied upon his granddaughter's memory.

"Yes," the ninety-year-old husband centenarian said, "I guess I'm getting old—too old, I tell my grandchildren—and if I didn't have Rafael," with an affectionate glance at his wife, "there with me I should be lost in the world as it is today."

"I was born in 1800. You see that makes me 110 years old, and Rafael there is three years younger than I am. No, I don't remember the name of the town where I was born. It was somewhere in what is now New Mexico. It has long been deserted and its name forgotten. I think I am the only person alive who lived in it.
Yew, we thought it was something of a city in those days, but its gone now, like all the old friends of those days except Rafael."

In those days Espar was a Spanish citizen; later, when the territory was annexed to Mexico, his political status was changed. When the northern Mexican states were conquered and annexed to the United States Es-par became a citizen of this country.

He remembers well the desert schooners that crossed the continent when gold was first discovered in California. A cloud of sorrowful remembrance passed over his wrinkled face as he told of the times when in the sandy wastes of the American desert he stumbled over the half devoured bodies of men and horses, the victims of Indians and killing heat.

He does not like to talk to strangers now, for, as he said, "My people are all gone; the things that interest you young folks are so entirely different from the things that we enjoyed in the days of the early part of the last century that I can't get used to liking them."

The old man is of French descent, though born in this country; his wife was born near Taos, N. M. They have one child, a "boy" of 85. They were ten children, but old age has claimed them all excepting this one.
There are, however, thirty grandchildren, sixty great-grandchildren and two great-great-grandchildren.

MURDER AND SUICIDE

Noted Musical Director and Woman
Court Singer Found Dead

Stuttgart, Ger., June 30.—Dr.
Aloys Obriet, the famous musical conductor and Anna Sutter, a court singer, were found dead together here.
Both had been shot. Appearances indicate that one had been murdered and that the other had committed suicide.
Dr. Obriet was born in Italy in 1867.
He conducted the Royal Opera here in 1907 and 1908.

The discovery of the bodies of the musician and his woman companion was a shock not only to his intimate friends in musical circles, but to the public at large, in which he was a notable figure. Mystery surrounds the affair, but the impression is strong that the same hand killed both.

REFUSES TO RESIGN

Kansas Revenue Collector Wants to Know Reason For Request

Leavenworth, Kas., June 30.— James H. Simpson, collector of internal revenue, received a telegram from the treasury department at Washington, requesting his resignation.

Simpson wired back a refusal. He has addressed letters to the internal revenue commissioner, to the secretary of the treasury and the president, asking on what grounds his resignation is asked.

Drop in Retail Beef Prices

Chicago, June 30.—Retail beef prices have dropped, following a wholesale price reduction. Sirloin steak, which two days ago sold for 18 1/2 cents per pound, can be had for 16 1/2. Porterhouse, that sold for 22 cents, is quoted at 20.

SENATOR DANIEL DEAD

His Life Ends With an Attack of Cerebral Hemorrhage

Lynchburg, Va., June 30.—John W. Daniel, United States senator from Virginia, died at 10:25 last night, his death being due to a recurrence of paralysis. The immediate cause of his death was cerebral hemorrhage.

Senator Daniel, the senior Democrat of the senate, always entered the senate chamber on crutches. He lost a leg in the Wilderness when serving in the Confederate army. He had been a member of the senate since 1887.

RAILROADS MUST MAKE BIG RATE CUT

Decision of Commission In So-Called Spokane Case

Washington, June 30.—Decisions were handed down by the interstate commerce commission of country-wide importance. They affect freight rates —both class and commodity—on all trans-continental lines operating between the Atlantic and Pacific oceans.
Extensive reductions were ordered.
The decisions are in what is popularly known as the Spokane case and those of other interior cities, which were heard by the commission on its six weeks' trip to the Pacific coast.
In every instance reductions in the existing rates complained of were made and in some instances they amounted to nearly 50 percent.

The commission found a remarkable rate situation existing on the Pacific coast, and even a more remarkable one in the inter-mountain territory.

TO SAVE $100,000 A YEAR

Government to Make Those Who Want
Fresh Coin Pay For Transportation

Washington, June 30.—Department store managers and others desiring fresh silver coin may take notice from the treasury department that after June 30 such coin will be shipped only at the expense of the applicant. The government has paid for the transportation of fractional or minor coin ever since 1881. At that time the making of "thin" plasters was discontinued and congress appropriated $20,000 for transporting silver. The expense has increased to as high as $120,000 a year.

Two years ago the department
ceased paying charges on standard silver dollars. The appropriation for the past year was $60,000, and this has been exceeded by about $35,000.
Congress made no appropriation to pay express charges for the next fiscal year, hence the treasury department is sending formal notice as above stated. The government will save an average of $100,000 a year by the discontinuance.

YOUNG GIRL STRANGLED

Rope Caught Around Her Neck When She Tried to Make a Swing

Milford, N. H., June 30.—Emily S.
Joslyn, aged 11 years, met death by hanging in the loft of the Joslyn barn.
Playmates discovered her body.

Dr. Watson stated the girl had been dead probably fifteen minutes when found. The indications were that she may have tried to make a swing and had stood upon a lounge in the loft and in swinging off the rope had become entangled around her neck and strangled her.

Hyde Is Denied New Trial

Kansas City, June 30.—Judge Lat-shaw refused to grant Dr. B. C.
Hyde's motion for a new trial. He was convicted for the murder of Colonel Swope and sentenced to life imprisonment.

Painter Falls to Death

Boston, June 30.—Daniel Flynn, a house painter, aged 38, was instantly killed when the staging upon which he was working at a house on Amory street collapsed, throwing him to the ground.

WASHINGTON IS ON TIPTOE

Interested In Coming Conference at Beverly

TAFT, ROOSEVELT, HUGHES

Possible Split May Develop Between President and His Predecessor—Occupant of White House Not Seeking Favor of the Colonel, Who Has Been Giving Good Many Audiences
to Prominent Insurgents

Washington, June 30.—With President Taft, Colonel Roosevelt and Governor Hughes all within the environs of the city of Boston, public men who have lingered at the national capital are on edge for some interesting political news within the next twenty-four hours.

The big question hereabouts is:
"Will these three men have a conference, and will it have an important bearing on the future of the Republican party?"

There are special reasons for the curiosity that is excited over the proximity in which these distinguished men find themselves. In the first place no one here, at any rate no one who dares speak even in a whisper, knows just what the relations between President Taft and Colonel Roosevelt are at this moment.

It is known that Taft did not communicate with Roosevelt during the colonel's long stay in Africa. Neither did the colonel send any communications to the president. The day Roosevelt landed in New York the president did receive a letter that had been mailed in England. Though pressed on many occasions to give some intimation as to the spirit of this communication, the White House has steadfastly refused to do so.

Since his return, as the public knows, Roosevelt has been giving audience to a good many of the more prominent Republicans who are out after the present administration with a tomahawk. It is true that he has called into conference a few men who may be classed as supporters of the administration, but as Washington understands it his conferences have been largely with the enemies of the administration. It is violating no confidence to say that this fact has had a disquieting effect at the White House.

Ever since the talk began that the president and the former president and Governor Hughes would meet at Beverly, the White House has maintained silence with respect to the talk of the meeting. Frequenters of the executive offices became convinced two or three days ago that President Taft has made up his mind not to do anything or say anything in connection with this gossip about a meeting that would give the country any excuse for saying that he was seeking the favor of his predecessor.

Whatever may be said of the political campaign that resulted in making Taft president, and everybody knows that Roosevelt did make him president, Taft is now determined to be his own man. It was this decision that led him to refuse to go to New York on the occasion of Roosevelt's return, and it is this determination that is moving him to decline to take the initiative in bringing about a conference with Roosevelt at Beverly.

As persons here who are in positions to know understand the situation, the president would, of course, be glad to have the support of his predecessor, but he does not intend to humiliate himself by begging for it. While not much has been said about it, the president has been quite a bit chagrined over the stories that Roosevelt has been trying to persuade Hughes to reconsider his acceptance of the place in the supreme court and make a third campaign for governor of New York. Naturally the attitude of the president would be that if the colonel has been doing anything of this sort he is interfering in matters that do not call for interference from him.

It is plain that President Taft intends to be his own man. He does not intend to face about on the pin-chot business, or on anything else in order to gain the favor of his predecessor. Within the last day or two rumors have come to the national capital that Roosevelt intends to give the administration a hearty endorsement in his first political speech. On the other hand, the statesmen who have been to Oyster Bay seem to be pretty well convinced that the colonel is not going to support all the administration has done. It is this uncertainty, these conflicting reports, that have created such keen interest in a possible conference.

HEAVY SEIZURE OF WINE

Boston Surveyor Claims That Casks
Were Not Properly Labelled

Boston, June 30.—A seizure of one case of liquor and 183 casks of wine was made by the customs inspectors yesterday at the White Star line docks under orders of the surveyor, who held that they had not been properly labelled.

Until recently liquors were permitted to be labelled on the wharf. The customs authorities, however, decided to withdraw this permission.

ROOSEVELT IS OUT

TO AID HIS FRIEND

Vow to Keep Out of Politics

For a Time Is Renounced

Boston, June 30.—Theodore Roosevelt leaped into the political arena yesterday afternoon by declaring that he would help Governor Hughes. He stated that he had sent an emphatic appeal to the New York Republican leaders demanding that the legislature back up the governor and pass the legislation he is seeking.

The former president's statement came entirely unexpectedly at the banquet of the Harvard alumni and had a startling effect on his hearers.
In making his declaration Roosevelt broke his silence much earlier than he had asserted he would on arrival back on American soil. Then he stated he would have nothing to say of a political nature for at least two months.

BODIES ARE RECOVERED

Two Midshipmen and Mrs. Bowyer
Were Accidentally Drowned

Annapolis, Md., June 30.—The bodies of Midshipmen S. M. Nasou and G. E. Thomas and Mrs. Joseph Bowyer, who failed to return to the naval academy after going for a sail, were recovered near the place where the sailboat had been anchored. It is supposed that the party was bathing, Mrs. Bowyer being dressed in a bathing suit and a long cloak.

It is said that Mrs. Bowyer could swim but a few strokes. Nasou was a poor swimmer, but Thomas could swim well. So it is presumed that the latter met his end trying to save the other two.

EXCURSIONS CANCELLED

But Airship Service Will Be Resumed
When Deutschland Is Repaired

Unsubruce, Ger., June 30.—
Count Zeppelin, disappointed but not discouraged, hurried here to superintend the salvage of his latest aerial model, the great airship Deutschland, which came to grief in less experienced hands.

The prospects for the early resumption of the passenger service here are not bright. The airship company announces that the accident will necessitate a suspension for several months of the advertised excursions, but also that it proposes to renew this service at the earliest possible date.

BRIDGE JUMP OF 135 FEET

Boy Makes High Dive From Brooklyn Structure

HE LIVES TO TELL TALE

First to Perform Daring Feat With Witnesses as Part of Prearranged Plan

—Seeker of Fame Gets $250 in Cash and Two New Suits of Clothes For His Stunt—Spectators Say He Spun
Like a Pinwheel

New York, June 30.—A hutch-faced, under-sized youth in ragged swimming trunks, with a skip coat and an old pair of trousers thrown over them, dived successfully from the centre span of Brooklyn bridge to the East river, 135 feet below, for $250 in cash, two new suits of clothes and whatever fame the world may hold in store for a bridge jumper.

The late Steve Brodie acquired fame as a bridge jumper, and long ran a lowery, saloon on the strength of it, but many say it was never proved that Steve really jumped. Several would-be suicides have been fished out of the river unharmed, after jumping, but this boy is the first to jump with unquestioned witnesses as a part of a pre-arranged plan.

His first words when he was fished out of the river by the crew of a passing tug were: "Gee, but I hit hard."
The youth is Otto Eppers, 17 years old, the son of a lithographer. He weighs about 110 pounds and has been unofficially swimming champion of the East river ever since he got into this big boy's class.

Recently he heard that a Brooklyn merchant was willing to pay $250 out of his advertising appropriation to the first man who would jump from any one of the bridges over the East river.

Otto had jumped 104 feet from a bridge once before and the addition of a few more feet never gave him so much as a thought. "Sure, I'll do it,"
he said, and he did.

Otto meant to dive from the new Manhattan bridge, because he thought it was higher—the height in reality is the same for all the East river bridges—but the police were too watchful. He meant to shed his coat and trousers, but he didn't have time.
He meant to take off his heavy boots,
but the river did that for him.

He meant to dive in one long, sweeping arc, "but somehow," he told afterward, "I started to twist and then I couldn't stop." Passengers on the ferry boats said he spun like a pinwheel.

"I wasn't a bit scared until I jumped," he continued, "but I don't remember anything after I hit until I came up again." He was found floating on his back, half-stunned, and paddling feebly. "I could have swum to shore," he boasted, and in the next breath admitted "but I wasn't feeling very spry."

A rub down and two hours' rest in a hospital found Eppers fit to appear in police court, where he was quickly discharged for lack of evidence that he had attempted suicide. He hopes to become a shining star in some dime museum. In his coat pocket, when he was fished out, was a rough advance sketch of his plunge signed proudly,
"That Bridge Jumper, O. Eppers."

GREAT REGATTA TODAY

Yale Gets First Blood by Victory of Her Freshman Crew

New London, June 30.—Yale and Harvard met in their annual struggle for rowing honors on the Thames today and New London is filled with its typical boat race crowd.

Yale won the freshman four-oared race last evening, and although this is considered a "scrub" event, and not scheduled with the regular contests of the regatta, the supporters of the Blue are greatly encouraged by the omen.
The race was rowed over a mile course.

The Yale freshmen finished three-quarters of a length ahead. The unofficial time was 5:39 1-5. The Harvard crew got the jump at the start and led for three-quarters of the way, at times getting a lead of nearly two lengths. In the last quarter the New Haven youngsters came up with a beautiful spurt and won in a gruelling finish.

TWO SCHOONERS BURNED

Flames Spread From Icehouses,
Which Are Also Destroyed

Richmond, Me., June 30.—Two four-masted schooners and the same number of icehouses, owned by the American Ice company, were destroyed by fire here. The loss on the icehouses is estimated at $60,000, while that on the schooners, the Henry L. Peckham and Young Brothers, is about $65,000.

As the icehouses were situated on the Kennebec river, near the tracks of the Maine Central railroad, it is believed that a spark from a passing locomotive ignited the structures.

candidates who took the mental examination this month for admission to the naval academy only 104 passed.

SHARP CAMPAIGN EXPECTED

Fernald Renominated For Governor by Republicans of Maine

Augusta, Me., June 30.—The Republicans of Maine nominated by ne-clamation Governor Bert M. Fernald of West Poland for a second term in the executive chair of the state. They also renominated Charles P. Hatch of Augusta for another term as state auditor and adopted a platform of principles which included a plank for a direct primary or other caucus law.
The governor and state auditor are the only state officials elected by direct vote of the people.

A feature of the convention was the sounding of a warning note by Walter C. Emerson of Portland that a "red-hot, old-fashioned fight may be expected in the coming state campaign" and by Herbert M. Heath of Augusta, who said:

"You are going to have the greatest fight since 1880, when Harris M.
Platt, father of the Democratic nominee for governor, was elected by the Democrats and Fusionists. You are going to meet a man who is worthy of your steel."

RICKARD AS REFEREE

Fight Promoter Has Had No Experience In That Line, But Is Square

Reno, Nev., June 30.—Tex Rickard has no misgivings whatever regarding his ability to referee the big fight.

"Why, I haven't given the subject
a single thought," he told a group of newspaper men here. "The job will be a snap. With seasoned fighters like Jeffries and Johnson to deal with, it will be the easiest thing in the world to take care of the referee's end. I have been assured by both men that they are entirely satisfied to have me in the ring and they will do everything they can to smooth my way."

There are many who declare that the appointment of Rickard was a mistake, owing to his admitted inexperience as an arbitrator of contestants. Even his critics, however, appear to be satisfied that when he enters the ring the promoter will endeavor to give each contestant a square deal.

IMPORTER GIVES UP

$100,000 FOR FRAUD

Voluntary Action by Hat Dealer

May Result In Revelations

New York, June 30.—While ap-names have been made public as yet, it is admitted that one importer has already confessed to defrauding the government out of more than $100,- 000 through undervaluation in importing Panama hats. His offense was unknown to the government previous to his confession. More are expected to follow his lead.

As a result of his confession the importer has cleared himself, but the information given by him, it is expected, will lead to sensational revelations regarding the hat importation business.

According to an official in the customs service the man who made the confession restored to the government the amount he swindled it out of through false declarations.

KITTERY LETTER

Mr. Jones Marries Mrs. Amee

Kittery, Me., June 30.
Kittery correspondent's telephone 295-5.

A very quiet home wedding took place on Wednesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Amee on Love Lane, when Mrs. Rosa Amee, mother of Mr. Amee, and Mr. Charles Jones, both well known residents of this town, were united in marriage, the ceremony being performed by Rev. F. C. Norcross, pastor of the Second Methodist church, only the immediate members of the contracting parties being present. Luncheon was served after the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Jones will reside at the Jones home on the Post road.

Master Bertie Richardson while going barefoot one day this week, cut his foot very badly and the services of a doctor were required.

A very pleasant and entertaining musical was held Wednesday evening by the pupils of Mrs. Amy Philbrick in the vestry of the Methodist church. The participants certainly did justice to Mrs. Philbrick's careful training and every pupil played delightfully. Mrs. Rudolph assisted by reading, which as usual was very entertaining and Mr. Sprague delightfully rendered vocal selections. Following was the program:

Waltz Lullaby, Van Geal
Dorothy Tobey, Leslie Heenev
Robin Song, Spaulding
Bernice Jones
Whippoorwill, Schiller
Marian Morrow
Golden Star, Streabog
Isabelle Gogins
Rank and File, Lange

Railways in Madagascar.
A comprehensive scheme is being formulated by the French government to establish a complete railway system in the island of Madagascar.

There is at present a narrow gauge line about 150 miles in length. The new project comprises standard gauge railways through the most fertile valleys in the island that will open up to commerce this hitherto almost entirely unexplored region. The mineral wealth of the country is reported to be great, while the vegetation is said to resemble more the luxuriance of Brazilian forests than the jungles of the near continent of Africa.

Sources of Uranium.
Uranium is found commercially in only two minerals in the United States, pitchblende and carnotite. Pitchblende, which is widely known because of its use as an ore of radium, occurs in quantity in the United States only in Gilpin county, Colo., where there are four mines that produce it. Carnotite occurs as a bright yellow powder in sandstones in Utah and Colorado.

A WOMAN AND TWO CADETS
DROWNED

Annapolis, Md., June 30—Standing erect in the waters of the Severn river, the body of Mrs. Marie Bowyer, daughter-in-law of Supt. Bowyer of the naval academy was found on Wednesday some hours after resumption of the search which continued long after dark Tuesday night.

Stretched at her feet upon the river bottom were the bodies of Midshipman Grissley E. Thomas of Union Point, Ga., and Sherman N. Nason of Newport, R. I.

Less than 24 hours before the finding of the bodies the three had set sail from the naval academy in a half-rater for the academy building beach, across the river. There they had donned bathing suits, to which Mrs. Bowyer added a long cloak, which still covered her when her body was brought to the surface. Reentering the sailboat they went toward the mouth of the river to another beach. Although this is within eight miles of the naval academy no one knows just what occurred there. The trio just returning to lunch search was in situated Tuesday afternoon and the sailboat was found a couple of hundred yards from the shore and about half that distance from the spot where the bodies were discovered this morning.

Morts of fishermen had joined the academy torpedo boats and launches in the search Wednesday and it was one of these, William Barnzel, whose grappling hook found the bodies in about six feet of water. In her standing posture the top of Mrs. Bowyer's head was only about a foot under the water.

The body of Mrs. Bowyer was taken to the home of Supt. Bowyer. Those of the two midshipmen were conveyed to Bancroft hall, and their families were notified.

Supt. Bowyer appointed a naval board of inquiry, of which Lieut. Commander J. J. Baby is senior member, with Lieut. Commander R. I. Curtin and Surg. F. L. Woods as the other members. Coroner John D. Davis of Annapolis, after viewing the bodies declared it to be clearly a case of accidental drowning.

Theatrical Topics

Keith's Theatre, Boston.

For the week beginning with Independence Day at Keith's a typical program has been arranged, one that is bound to attract widespread attention. In the first place it will include the Old Soldiers Fiddlers, a remarkable company who will be seen in Boston for the first time. In it are four men, two who served in the Southern armies and two in the army of the north, all of whom are remarkable fiddlers. They play entirely by ear, and the manner in which they give the old songs and tunes invariably arouses the greatest enthusiasm.

Another picturesque feature will be the Gelska Girls from Japan; who make their first appearance here. These eight little maidens from the land of the Mikado have been the sensation of New York this summer. They have a beautiful stage setting and their performance is typically Japanese with singing and dancing features.

Also on the bill are Lovenberg's Six American Dancers, who at the conclusion of their engagement at Keith's will sail for London to start a long Continental tour.

Porter J. White and company also will be in one of the strongest dramatic sketches of the year, entitled "The Visitor." Other features are Conlin, Steele and Carr, in staging and dancing novelties; the Havelocks, a company of remarkable jugglers who do all kinds of amazing stunts; and McPhee and Hill, the clown acrobats.

OLDEST IN NEW HAMPSHIRE

Antrim, N. H., June 30—Rev. William Hurlin, the oldest resident of this town and the oldest active minister in New England, if not in the United States, died Tuesday evening at his home on North Main street aged 96. He had been critically ill for two weeks.

Rev. Mr. Hurlin was born in London, England July 31, 1814. For 2 years Mr. Hurlin was the secretary of the Baptist state convention, and for 13 years was treasurer of the New Hampshire Baptist conference. He was trustee for more than 2 years of the New Hampshire Baptist church conference.

HAMPTON BEACH CASINO

The welcome announcement is made that the season at Hampton Beach Casino will open next Saturday, July 2nd for the summer. The attractions at this popular summer theatre will again be furnished by Manager Joseph J. Flynn and patrons of the Casino theatre will welcome the news that popular Toni Whyte is again to have the immediate charge of the attractions that are to be seen here and will not only give his personal attention to each production to be seen here, but will also be seen in the principal comedy roles of many of the offerings. The attraction for the first week will be a merry musical frolic entitled "The Honey-moon" and will be given with the full strength of excellent cast engaged by Manager Flynn for this theatre, but will also include Mr. Whyte in one of his best roles. The first performance will be given next Saturday afternoon and evening, July 2nd and every afternoon and evening of the following week. The cast includes Louis Powers, Russell Randall, Tom Whyte, Dan McCaffery, Gilbert Luce, Edith Powers and others. The chorus is composed of clever and pretty girls who can sing and dance and the patrons of this popular resort can look forward to a week of excellent performances.

OF HARVARD

There were four young men of this city in the graduation class of Harvard College on Wednesday, which is said was the most brilliant ever held in this famous seat of learning. They are Maurice O. Richards, Hector Kingsbury, Samuel Whidden and Harold Garland, all graduates of the local high school in 1906.

Kingsbury, who received a degree of Bachelor of Science, has been awarded a scholarship and will pass the summer in the Cobalt district in Canada and will take a post graduate course in the fall.

Maurice O. Richards, who graduated as an A. B. will enter the Harvard Medical school in the fall. Garland graduated as a D. S. and will be come an instructor at Phillips Andover in the fall, and Whidden who is also a B. S. has not definitely decided on what he will do.

NEWMARKET

The many friends of James H. Staples, a prominent resident of Newmarket, learned on Monday with much regret of the latter's death at his home in that town. Mr. Staples had been ill health for six months or more. He was aged 52 years and leaves a widow. He was a popular overseer in the mills of the Newmarket Manufacturing company for many years and up to the time of his last illness.

Railroad Commissioners Young and Bales were among the arrivals on Tuesday where they joined Commissioner Whittemore at Dover. Thence they proceeded to Durham, where a hearing was held regarding a new location of the tracks of the Boston and Maine railroad at a point between Durham and Newmarket where the system is being double-tracked, and at Durham where the station is to be moved from its present location about 500 yards north, and just beyond the experiment station of the state college. They came here from Durham.

FASHION'S REALM

The Lingerie Hat.

The Lingerie hat is in high favor again this summer, and a dainty and new French model is shown in the illustration. The crown is decidedly different in shape from the old models.

HEADGEAR FOR PRETTY GIRLS.

and the ribbon, which is tied in a flat bow at the front, is caught at intervals with a rose and leaves. The lace trim is absolutely without dare and falls softly against the hair.

The Seamless Bodice.

Many people imagine that the seamless bodice, popular this season, is copied from a garment worn as much by men as it was by women in the early middle ages in France. Yet in reality it is to Mme. de Maintenon that the Parisienne of today owes this pretty style of bodice.

But she adopted this particular shape only during the last years of her life. As Mme. Scarron she dressed like most of the elegant women of the court of Anne of Austria. She was then young and good looking.

As governess to the children of Mme. de Montespan she chiefly wore black, and her appearance according to court etiquette was particularly severe.

After the death of the queen of France the scheming Marquise de Maintenon—as the morganatic wife of Louis XIV.—played an important part in all religious and political matters and furthermore held the post of queen.

It is at this period that she introduced the seamless bodice to the court circle. Her new gowns were made high waisted and pouched over a silk scarf fastened at the back. The bodices opened at the neck over a white linen gumpie like those of the present day. But this seventeenth century corsage did not look behind. The magnificent dull gold brocades and velvets were caught in front with a jeweled clasp.

Smart Bathing Suits.

There are bathing suits and bathing suits, and some of the latest productions were certainly meant to dazzle the beholder, if not to charm. When they are supplemented by caps equally dazzling, silk stockings, satin shoes and a parasol to match, the suitability of the outfit for a dip in the ocean is problematical. Smart suits it would be more reasonable to term them, and the woman who wants to deck herself in gay colors and striking combinations for a visit to the beach can be satisfied, be she ever so capricious. Flirts take the lead in these new bathing suits, great big assertive squares and blocks of color fashioned in princess or tunic style, the lower part of the skirt to about the depth of a foot being laid in deep plaits. Every line on the color card is represented in these suits, with hats to match.

The Newest Neck Ruff.

The newest neck ruff is so simple to construct that any person who can sew can safely duplicate it. The effect is flat rather than round, and one of the prettiest as well as the most practical models in this style is of black and white malines.

Knife plaited frills five or seven inches wide used three rows, the white coming between the two black.

All are the same width and are headed with a twist of black ribbon velvet which forms ties or may be left floating, as preferred. This accessory will harmonize with any color dress; but, of course, these ruffs are worn to match the shade of the gown if so desired.

Ribbon Roses on Hats.

Wild roses in natural tones and the fashionable blues, purples and tans deftly fashioned from ribbon are employed by smart milliners for the trimming of lace and lingerie hats. On one hat of white chiffon veiled with black chintilly a garland of ribbon roses in delicate pink made a charming garniture.

More Persian Novelties.

In Persian designs there are many varieties of smart little bows and jabots, and a new idea is to brighten a bow of black silk or satin by embroidery in a realistic wild rose or buttercup design.

Humor and Philosophy

By DUNCAN H. SMITH

JUST HIS WAY.

THE night hawk sits and works away
Until the night has sped,
And in the early morning gray
The pillow finds his head.
He rises from his laggard bed
About the hour of noon,
And how he looks should come one chance
To wake him up too soon!

No early bird is he to catch
The worm that first appears,
It's only lightning bugs and bats
From him that need have fears.
All rules concerning morning air
At once would he revoke.
He does not think that it will make Him healthy, wealthy, wise.

Why does he turn the thing about
And waste the midnight oil
And to complete his foolishness
One-half the daylight spoil?
He couldn't tell himself just why
He makes the night of day.
His only reason is "Because."
That's all that he can say.

A strange and wondrous bird is he,
A human bat, indeed.
The wheels he do turn in his head
All day; at night they speed.
The rules that govern other men
To him do not apply.
And if you ask him to explain
He winks the other eye.

Might Help Some.

No—The women of Turkey wear their faces covered.

She—That makes them more interesting.

He—Why?

She—It adds to the mystery. A man cannot distinguish between the pretty and the ugly ones.

He—Have you ever wished the women of this country would adopt the custom?

Unsafe.

"We don't see Montmorency in society any more."

"No; they say he has given up society."

"I wonder why."

"He finds it so irritating."

"Irritating?"

"Yes; he now has so many ex-wives and is so apt to meet one or two, no matter where he goes."

Can't Help It.

"Are you on intimate terms with your neighbors?"

"Very."

"They must have very charming propensities."

"Hardly that."

"Why the intimacy, then?"

"On account of their borrowing propensities."

Some Variety.

"Does it always blow this way?"

asked the disgusted visitor who was spending his first week in the breezy southwest.

"Oh, no," replied the cheerful native, "Sometimes it blows harder."

Remedy at Hand.

"What is the greatest evil of our civilization?"

"We eat too much."

"The trusts will break us of that."

A Slap.

"What are you thinking of, Mr. Borum?"

"Nothing."

"How egotistical!"

PERT PARAGRAPHS.

It is always the open season for making a fool of oneself, and everybody seems to be on the job.

We always want what is coming to us—after we have blue pencilled the list.

Next to knowing what is true comes knowing what isn't true.

Being inquisitive may be a source of great information, but it is regarded by other persons as a great affliction—to themselves.

You can't tell what a woman will do next and wouldn't dare to if you could.

The wages of sin is death, but nobody's creditors ever seem cruel enough to garnish on them.

Some high minded individuals go about looking for trouble in order that they may hurt its feeling by refusing to recognize it.

There may be a mass of people who think too little, but the trouble is aggravated by some who think too much—for the good of the mass.

No doubt we would all be good if we found it easy, comfortable, profitable and popular.

ACT QUICKLY

Delay Has Been Dangerous in Portsmouth

Do the right thing at the right time. Act quickly in times of danger. Backache is kidney danger. Doan's Kidney Pills act quickly. Cure all distressing, dangerous kidney ills.

Plenty of evidence to prove this. Albert Dunlap, 17 School street, Portsmouth, N. H., says: "I suffered from kidney disease, brought on I believe by the hardships I endured while in the army. Some years ago my complaint became much worse and there was a constant pain in the small of my back that made me miserable. It was difficult for me to get about and if I stooped or moved suddenly, sharp twinges darted through my body. When I saw Doan's Kidney Pills advertised as a cure for such troubles, I decided to try them and procured a box at Philbrick's Drug Store. After using about half the contents, I could see an improvement and almost before I realized it, the pains in my back had ceased. I have had no trouble to speak of from my kidneys since. Occasionally when I have taken a slight cold or over-worked, my back has become weak, but at such times a few doses of Doan's Kidney Pills have always benefited me."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

PRESIDENT TAFT AND COL. ROOSEVELT TO MEET

Latter Will Visit Taft's Summer Home at Beverly—Taft to Have a Complete Rest for Awhile.

Beverly, June 30—While President William H. Taft was getting settled for his vacation at his summer home in Beverly yesterday and ex-President Theodore Roosevelt was fulfilling his duties as president of the Harvard Alumni association at the Harvard commencement in Cambridge, it became known that the two distinguished visitors to Massachusetts will meet at Beverly this afternoon.

Although no official announcement was made of this first meeting between President Taft and his predecessor since the latter's return from abroad it was learned that arrangements had been made for Col. Roosevelt to journey here today from the home of U. S. Senator Henry Cabot Lodge at Nahant, where he was a guest last night.

It is understood that Senator Lodge will accompany him. Whether Gov. Charles E. Hughes of New York, who was also at the Harvard commencement yesterday and will deliver the Phi Beta Kappa oration at Harvard this noon, will visit Beverly later tomorrow, is not known.

President Taft reached Beverly early Wednesday from Washington and proceeded at once to his summer home. One of his first acts after his arrival was to visit the hospital where lies the Italian workman who was injured by Robert A. Taft's automobile a few days ago, and to renew his directions that all possible be done for the man's comfort. He was pleased to learn that the Italian probably will recover.

Mr. Taft went in the afternoon to the Myopia hunt club for a game of golf with John Hays Hammond.

Taft Arrives in Montserrat. The President arrived at Montserrat station at 9:45 Wednesday, meeting his young son, Charlie, who was waiting at the station for him. After giving him a fatherly kiss the President went directly to his summer home in his large motor car and met the other members of the family. In the auto with President Taft and his son was Sec. Norton.

The President's car arrived at the South station in Boston at 8:16, the train being 1 hour and 16 minutes late.

His car was run out to Cottage Farm and then over to East Somerville, arriving there shortly after 9, being turned over to the Boston and Maine R. R. in charge of C. F. Govey, representing the passenger department of the Boston and Maine.

At the South station awaiting the arrival of the President to take him over to East Somerville were Supt. Philip Morrison and J. B. Hamilton, trainmaster of the B. and A. railroad. The conductor on the President's car who saw him safe to East Somerville was P. F. Morrison. Baggage Master Edward Shaughnessy, who went on the western trip with the President, brakeman A. W. Sheldon and engineer O. J. Brackett were also on the train.

It was not generally known that President Taft was to arrive at the Montserrat station, and there was only a small crowd to meet him. It was at first thought that the President would leave his train at the Back Bay station in Boston and motor out to his summer home.

Mrs. Taft didn't go to the station to meet the President, nor did his son, Robert, or his daughter, Helen, but all remained home to receive him on his arrival.

Immediate Visit to Hospital. President Taft did not remain at the house but a short time after his arrival, and in company with Mrs. Taft, Robert Taft and Capt. Butt, started for the Beverly hospital.

On his arrival at the summer home after greeting his family, the President asked about the condition of the Italian laborer, who is lying in the Beverly hospital suffering from injuries received while at work on the highway at Prides Crossing a few days ago by being struck by an auto driven by Robert Taft.

Before enjoying any pleasure the President ordered the car to the Beverly hospital, where he visited the injured man, and to his joy found that he was much improved and on the road to recovery. He left orders with members of the hospital staff to give the injured man the best care possible.

Augusta, Me., June 30.—The republicans of Maine, assembled in their state convention on Wednesday nominated by acclamation Gov. Bert M. Fernald of West Poland for a second term in the executive chair of the state.

They also renominated Charles P. Hatch of Augusta without opposition for another term as state auditor and adopted a platform of principles which included a plank for a direct primary or other caucus law. The offices of governor and state auditor are the only state officials elected by direct vote of the people.

A feature of the convention, which was one of the largest in numbers in recent years, the committee on credentials reporting 1153 delegates out of 1382 entitled to seats, was in sound- ing of a warning note by Walter C. Emerson of Portland that a "red-hot old-fashioned fight may be expected in the coming state campaign and by

Herbert M. Heath of Augusta, who said: "You are going to have the greatest fight since 1880, when Harris M. Plaisted, father of the democratic nominee was elected by the democrats and fusionists. You are going to meet a man who is worthy of your steel."

Seconding speeches were made by Ray Fellows of Bangor, Walter C. Emerson of Portland and Herbert M. Heath of Augusta in behalf of the 4th 1st and 3rd congressional districts, respectively.

Mr. Emerson sounded a warning note on the coming state campaign by saying, "It is useless to attempt to deceive anybody, least of all ourselves, about the coming campaign in this state. It is going to be a red-hot, old-fashioned fight with the enemy just waking from a long sleep and an opposing candidate, lively and clean."

The convention adjourned at 1:27 p. m.

body has yet made. The cases have been under consideration during the past year and a half.

Complaints by Commerce Bodies. The complaints were brought by the Commercial Club, the Traffic Bureau of Salt Lake City, the city of Spokane and Maricopa Commercial Club of Arizona, the traffic bureau of the Merchants' Exchange, Sacramento, California, the Portland (Oregon) Chamber of Commerce, and the Railroad Commission of Nevada against the Southern Pacific, Oregon Railway & Navigation Company, the Northern Pacific, the Santa Fe, Prescott & Phoenix Railroad, and the Atchafalaya, Topeka and Santa Fe Railroad companies.

Rates were reduced and readjusted from New York City, Chicago, Cincinnati, St. Louis, Pittsburgh, through the Missouri and Mississippi River points to the Pacific Coast.

This interstate commerce ruling is one of tremendous importance. There appears in the record compilation for the years 1898 to 1907, in which it is shown that in ten years the carriers in the Pacific coast country doubled their freight tonnage, which rose from 18,000,000 to 35,000,000 tons; almost doubled their gross revenue; increased their receipts per mile over 70 per cent.; increased their receipts per ten miles about 20 per cent., while the relation of expenses to earnings remained about constant at 62.50 per cent.

May Appeal to Courts. The Central Pacific is the highest of all in freight earnings per mile, and third in tons carried. Its earnings per mile are 65 per cent. greater than the average for the United States and 100 per cent. greater than the average of the roads west of Chicago. The railroads undoubtedly can appeal to the circuit courts now, if they wish to. The new Court of Commerce will not be organized until next winter. If the roads should appear in any given case and the decree is not handed down until the Court of Commerce is organized, then that court will take charge of it; otherwise the decision will be by one of the circuit courts.

The commission will hold a conference in Chicago, July 11, with a number of railroad representatives, for the purpose of discussing plans for the checking up over a period of three months the revenue the roads will lose on the decision proposed in commodity rates.

NOTICE

The Schools to be represented in the Parade are expected to assemble their companies and battalions at their respective play-grounds, at 9:30 a. m., July 10, so that they may be in line at 10 a. m. sharp, if necessary.

The Commanders of School Battalions are requested to forward, at once, a roster of their Field and Line Officers to the Chief Marshal, J. A. Sanborn.

Per order of Committee, ch1w,j27.

Healing, bleeding, protruding, enlarged piles yield to Doan's Ointment. Chronic cases soon relieved. Finally cured. Druggists all sell it.

JUDGE PARKER HAS NARROW ESCAPE

New York, June 30—Just as Judge Alton B. Parker, once democratic candidate for President of the United States, was about to step into the hotel Essex, 56th street and Madison on Tuesday evening, shortly after 6 o'clock, there was a revolver shot and a bullet went by his head.

The next moment a negro turned the corner and ran east on 57th street with a crowd of about 200 men following him.

The negro is Plato J. Jerrey, 34 years old, of 37 Clifton avenue, North Beach, the proprietor of the only hotel at that place for colored persons.

Jerrey and a negro named a Madison avenue car at 34th street and 4th avenue about 5:45 o'clock. He was flashily dressed, as was the woman. The pay-as-you-enter car was in charge of conductor Joseph Eichele of 200 West 146th street.

When the man got on the car behind the woman he handed to the conductor two transfers.

"Those transfers are not good now," said conductor Eichele. "Give me two good ones or pay your fare."

Then the negro began to argue. "Move on, you can't block the platform that way. I'll talk to you later," said the conductor.

When the car moved on the conductor went inside and made Jerrey pay the fares. But all the way up town the negro kept making remarks about the conductor, to which Eichele paid no attention. Finally Jerrey's remarks became so offensive to women in the car that a man told him he would have to be quiet or a policeman would be called.

When the car reached Madison avenue and 56th street the negro started again to abuse the conductor and passengers, who had objected to his conduct. Then he was told to get off the car under pain of arrest. He and the woman left the car.

When Conductor Eichele turned his head and was reaching for the bell cord, to start the car again, Jerrey jumped back on the platform and struck Eichele on the face, drawing blood and blinding his eye.

The passengers urged the conductor to thrash the negro, saying they would help if necessary. Eichele got off the car and started after Jerrey and the negro, who by this time were half way up the block toward 67th street.

As Eichele approached Jerrey the negro drew a revolver and pulled the trigger, but it missed fire. He pulled the trigger a second time and there was a report.

Judge Parker had been on the car behind the one on which this negro had created the disturbance. When the car stopped he decided to walk the rest of the way to the hotel Essex, where he lives. He was just stepping in the hotel door when the bullet from Jerrey's revolver went by

AT NAVY YARD

Captain Bostwick Asks
For RetirementSummer Half Holidays to Begin on Saturday

Long Trip for the Gunboat
To indicate its confidence in the complete seaworthiness of the gun-boat Marietta, which was recently pronounced to be in bad condition
by the inspection board and a court of inquiry, the navy department has directed the vessel to proceed to the east coast of Nicaragua. This, however, will not be done until thorough repairs are completed at this yard.

Fire Drill With Marines Missing
The regular yard fire drill was carried out today. The marines who are attached to the hook and ladder were missing owing to being out on a march and this part of the apparatus which is always the first on the scene looked lonesome with less than a dozen men on the ropes.

Half Holiday Begins on Saturday

The half holiday for the yard begins on Saturday for the months of July, August and September. The ferry Number 132 will make two extra trips each Saturday to accommodate the clerical force during these months.

Returned from Sick Leave

Allen J. Ramsdell machinist, has returned to work after a sick furlough.

Only One Rigger

One rigger was the extent of the crew made by the labor board today.

Captain Bostwick to Retire

Captain Frank M. Bostwick of this yard has made application to the retiring board for voluntary retirement on July 1st. Captain Bostwick presents his application owing to his health. He has passed thirty-seven years in the service in which he entered from Wisconsin in 1873. He is known as one of the most faithful and efficient officers of the navy. In retiring to civil life he has the best wishes of many friends and acquaintances which he has made since he assumed his duties at this station.
In this capacity it can be safely said that the captains duty at Portsmouth navy yard was never carried out by a more genial gentleman than Captain Bostwick.

One of Hist's Crew Takes a Bride
from the West

Congratulations are numerous on the survey boat Hist and they are being extended to Raymond T. Marquess, boatswain's mate, who was recently wed to Miss J. Lucille Bell of Danville, Ind., which is also the home town of the groom. The boatswain is one of the most popular men of the ship's company who join in wishing him and his bride much happiness. Mr. and Mrs. Marquess will reside here during the stay of the ship.

Bids Out for the Work

Proposals for the remodeling of the junior officers' quarters and the building of a stable at the marine barracks have been issued by the yards and docks, the same to be opened at this yard on July 15th.

Battleship to Be Floated Saturday

The U. S. S. New Hampshire will come out of the dock on Saturday and it is expected that some of the smaller fleet and the yard tug Pen-cook will shortly go in the basin.

Marines on the Road

A battalion of marines made up from the guard at the yard barracks, prison and ships in command of Major Henry Leonard went out for a march and drill in the vicinity of York today.

ORCHESTRA AT UNITARIAN CHURCH

Special Music for the Return of the City's Sons and Daughters

Next Sunday morning at 10.30 at the Unitarian church, a service appropriate to the season, of home coming and renewal of old friendships and old ties will be held, and through the courtesy of Mr. J. H. W.
Priest, manager of Hotel Wentworth, the returning sons and daughters of Portsmouth and the public in general will have the rare opportunity of listening to the superb orchestra from that famous hostelry, under the leadership of Mr. Carl Behr of Boston, the famous violinist. This orchestra is composed of fine soloists and Mr. Behr is at the top of his profession. In addition to the orchestra a chorus of sixteen voices will render a few of the old favorite choruses and there will doubtless be a large outpouring of the citizens as well as the returning sons and daughters. Everyone is cordially invited to attend, and the public should be grateful to Mr. Priest for his ready response to assist in the welcome of our returning wanderers.

JAMES SHAW AND FAMILY

An Interesting Group for the Return on July 4

James Shaw and wife and daughter, Miss Alice A. Shaw, of Aurora, Ill., have arrived for the return of the sons and daughters of Portsmouth and are at the Hickford house, corner Islington and Bridge streets. Mr. and Mrs. Shaw came east ten days ago and attended the graduation of Miss Shaw from Wellesley college.

Mr. Shaw, being asked for a sketch of his life, gave the following:

James Shaw
Born in England in 1840; son of James and Anne Shaw. Came with his parents to Portsmouth in 1848.

Educated in the schools of Portsmouth; under Chesley, Durgin and Senter in the grade schools; in the high school, under Kimball and Payson

Learned printing business in Chronicle office under Frank W. Miller.

Went out in '63 in Capt. J. H.
Thacher's company, 10th N. H. volunteers.

After the war was a resident of Alabama for several years, running Republican newspaper and otherwise in politics during reconstruction period; a bold, bad carpet-bagger he was.

In 1874 settled in Aurora, Illinois, where for several years he was in the newspaper business; afterwards
Clerk of the City Court of Aurora about seventeen years, Official Reporter of the Circuit Court of Kane County near twenty years, Librarian Aurora Public Library twenty-six years, member and secretary of Board of Education five years. These official terms are not to be considered cumulative. Like some prison sentences they mostly run concu-rently.

In 1885 married Ella, youngest daughter of the late William B. Lowd of Portsmouth.

chines acted quickly and only slight damage was the result of the mix up.

MUNNATAWKET

Steamboat for Appledore Goes
On the Route Today

The steamboat Munnatawket for the route from Portsmouth to Appledore Island, arrived this morning from New London, Ct., having on board H. W. Morse of the Appledore hotel, and tied up at the foot of Daniel street at 9.35 o'clock.

The steamboat inspector from Portland boarded the vessel at 11 o'clock and gave her the required examinations. She is in fine condition, having been in service on Long Island sound where she was recently given a regular inspection.

The boat was on this route last year and is a favorite with all who have traveled on her.

She makes this season's first trip from her Portsmouth landing at the foot of Daniel street to Appledore Hotel wharf, Appledore Island, this afternoon.
